

UDC, for instance, 004.056

ARTICLE TITLE

First, patronymic and second names<sup>1</sup> complete information is given in the footnote of authors separated by commas

The abstract which also should exactly underline the research results, namely: what is done, what effect it produced, and the field (150-250 words in a single paragraph).

Key words: 7-11 words or word expressions separated by commas which are different from the article title.

The text of the article theses (exactly 20,000-25,000 characters) is to include the following headings: introduction, intermediate headings, summary, and bibliography.

The article theses without a formalized problem solution are not recommended for publishing.

All formulae are to be numbered in round brackets on the right, for instance:

$$M = \frac{(3.5G + V/2)}{4(H_2O)^3} + 3(360^\circ), \quad (1)$$

where  $G$  - gin,  $V$  - vermouth.

Figures and tables are to be consecutively numbered as they are mentioned in the text with references thereto in round brackets, for instance: (Fig. 1), (Table 1). In addition, figures are to be submitted in tiff or jpg formats.

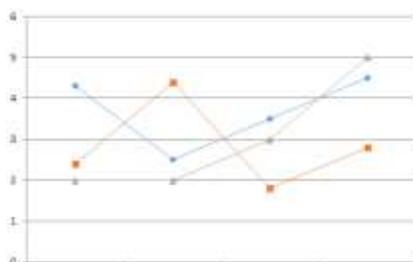

Fig.1. Figure description

Table 1.

Table heading

Seq. No.	Box 1	Box 2
1	Meaning 11	Meaning 12
2	Meaning 21	Meaning 22

If the thesis text contains elements of a program code it is to be given in a fixed-width font, for instance:

```
if bit==0 then
{ print("Merry hullo!");
  return();
```

---

<sup>1</sup> First, patronymic and second names, academic degree, academic rank, organization name, city, email, ORCHID

}

The summary is to mandatorily underline the following: what is done, what effect it produced and the field. A separate paragraph is to be exactly dedicated to practical application / authenticity of the scientific solutions proposed.

If research has been financially supported (for instance, due to RFFI grant) it is advisable to stress it in the end of the summary (or in a footnote).

The items in bibliography are to be numbered as they are mentioned in the text (example references in the text: [1], [2, 5-7], [3, p. 123]). The number of sources shall be 15-25. It is strongly recommended to refer to journal articles in elibrary.ru for the last 5 years. Reference to the unclassified sources including standards, anonymous publications, and non-scientific sources (for instance, Wikipedia) is to be avoided. Bibliographical items are to be given in compliance with any standards.

Translation into the Russian language of the article title, information about authors, abstract, and key words.